- In Part III, the gross total income consists of income from the following heads/sources:-

(A) Salaries

Salary includes arrears or advance of salary, payment received in lieu of leave not availed of, bonus, wages, fees, pension (including commuted value of pension (including commuted value of pension), any annuity or gratuity and profits in lieu of salary, perquisites and all other cash allowances. Salary received/receivable from more than one employer should be included in the gross salary. Relevant provisions are in sections 15 and 17 of the IT act, 1961. Income of the nature exempt u/s 10, is not to be included in this figure. Normally, all cash allowances are taxable. However, relevant exemptions u/s 10(5), 10(13A) and 10(14) are available to the extent stipulated. Perquisites provided by an employer are taxable under Section 17(2)(i) and (iii), Section 17(2)(iii) read with Rule 3 and 17(2) (iv) and (v).

The following deductions are allowed from the Salaries.

1. For assessment year 2000-2001, salaried tax payers whose income from salary does not exceed Rs. 1 lakh will be entitled to a standard deduction of a sum of $33\frac{1}{3}\%$ of the salary or Rs.25,000/-, whichever is less. In case of salaried employees whose income exceeds Rs. 1 lakh but does not exceed Rs. 5 lakhs, the standard deduction is limited to Rs. 20,000 and standard deduction has been withdrawn in cases of salaried employees whose income exceeds Rs. 5 lakhs. Surcharge is levied at the rate of 10% on the tax payable after allowing rebate under part-A of Chapter VIII of the Income-tax Act. No surcharge is payable by non-residents and persons having income of Rs. 60,000 or less. Standard deduction to the extent of 1/3 rd of the gross salary or Rs. 20,000/-, whichever is less, is allowed for assessment year 1998-99.
2. Entertainment allowance, to the extent provided in Section 16(ii).
3. Professional tax or tax on employment levied by a State government.

After deducting these amounts from salaries, you arrive at the income chargeable under the head "Salaries".

(B) House Property

Annual value. For computing the annual value, first the amount for which the property might reasonably be expected to let from year to year or the actual amount received, whichever is higher, is to be taken. From this, municipal taxes, either current or arrears paid during the previous year and the deductions under section 24 namely repairs, insurance paid, annual charge, ground rent and vacancy allowance etc. are allowed.

No deduction u/s 24 is allowed in respect of a self-occupied property or a property which could not be occupied because of employment, business or profession at another place or where the annual value is taken as nil. However, in respect of the self-occupied property, deduction for interest on borrowed capital has been increased to Rs.75,000/- for the assessment year 2000-2001. This enhanced deduction is allowable in respect of the borrowed capital taken after 01.04.1999 for construction or acquisition of self-occupied property and such construction or acquisition should be completed before 01.04.2001. Rs.30,000 is allowable in respect of loans taken prior to 01.04.1999. The deduction is also available to a person, whose house is vacant due to employment, etc. elsewhere. In such a case, the net result of computation will be a loss upto Rs. 30,000 or 75,000, as the case may be.

Carry forward and set-off of loss from house property: Section 71B has been inserted to provide that where net result of computation under the head 'Income from House Property' is a loss to the assessee and such loss cannot be or is not wholly set-off against income from any other head of income in accordance with provisions of section 71, so much of loss as has not been so set-off or where he has no income under any other head, the whole loss shall be allowed to be carried forward and set-off in the subsequent eight assessment years against the income from house property. Further, section 192(2B) has been amended to provide that the loss from house property is allowed to be adjusted against salary income for the purposes of determining the tax deductible from salary at source.

(C) Business or Profession

The net income from business or profession is arrived at after deducting expenditure allowable under this head. Depreciation under section 32 is admissible as per Income-tax Rules.

(D) Capital Gains

Short-term and long-term capital assets. Profits and gains arising from the transfer of a capital asset are included in the taxable income as 'capital gains'. If the asset in question was held by the taxpayer for more than 36 months upto the date of transfer, the asset is regarded as a long term capital asset. In case of shares in a company, units of UTI and Mutual Funds and the securities listed in the stock exchanges, the period of holding is more than 12 months for being considered a long term capital asset. An asset which does not qualify for being considered a long-term asset is considered to be a short-term asset. Capital gain arising from the transfer of long term capital asset gets concessional treatment vis-a-vis capital gains arising from the transfer of a short term capital asset.

a. Computation of short-term capital gain. The short-term capital gain is to be computed by deducting the following from the full value of consideration:

(i) Cost of acquisition (ii) Cost of improvement (iii) Cost of transfer.

b. Computation of long-term capital gain. The long-term capital gain is to be computed by deducting the following from the full value of consideration.

(i) Indexed cost of acquisition (ii) Indexed cost of improvement (iii) Cost of transfer.

The indexed cost of acquisition and indexed cost of improvement are to be computed by indexing the cost of acquisition and cost of improvement using the following cost of inflation index.
